

WE ARE LOOKING FOR

COURSE TUTORS

About Us

We are a highly-commended organisation who pride ourselves on making learning engaging for our students. With us, confidence naturally grows. Children are appropriately challenged in a safe space and informally mentored to achieve results far beyond expectations. We now want to help more children love learning.

About You

You can be a teacher or educator in a current role who wants to make a little extra money, be on maternity leave or have left the profession altogether. You may even already be a tutor. You should enjoy working with children and value active learning. You must also love to laugh.

Role Description

- Lead a minimum of one 10 or 12-week course, in one of the following subjects; Creative Writing, Book Club (comprehension), Maths, Verbal Reasoning, Non-Verbal Reasoning. You can teach multiple courses.
- Each course will be online, at the same time each week (at a time suitable for you), with a maximum of 12 children in a group. Each session will be an hour long.

Our Commitment

- PPA is paid at an additional hour every week to allow you to plan and prepare effective high-quality lessons.
- Accounts to Twinkl and other educational platforms are available to use to support lessons.
- Reward packages are provided, including termly 25% bonuses for positive parent feedback and after a year of service, discounted Apple equipment to support you in your role.
- Those with loyal service will receive additional benefits. We want you to feel proud to work with us, and reward you for your dedicated time and work.
- All management of students and parents will be fulfilled by Rocketology staff, so you can concentrate on what you joined the profession to do - teach.

Requirements

- Qualified Teacher Status or other relevant experience.
- A clean enhanced DBS dated in the last 12 months.
- Equipment to teach online such as laptop and functional internet.
- A fun but kind manner with children.
- Will work in line with our mantra - "Where Learning Goes Beyond".

Send your interest to:
hello@rocketology.co.uk

